Committee Sign Up

South Carolina Bar

Young Lawyers Division

A Message from the President

Hello fellow YLD'ers!

The practice of law is constantly changing in South Carolina. Our membership is becoming more diverse, technology is presenting new challenges, and our caseload seems to be increasing by the minute with our growing population. A new SC Bar year is now upon us, and with these ever-present changes within our profession, it is as important as ever get involved with the SC Bar Young Lawyers Division.

Personally, my journey through Bar leadership has paid dividends in countless ways. I have been able to give back to my community; promote lawyer wellness; create and foster relationships with colleagues; and advocate for the profession as a whole. I am confident that my experience is common for everyone involved in YLD leadership.

This past Bar year, the Young Lawyer's Division racked up prestigious awards at the ABA Annual Meeting in Denver, C.O. Thanks to the hard work of our committees, we won the overall Outstanding Affiliate award along with four other categories: Comprehensive, Newsletter, Single Project – Diversity, and Service to the Public. The SC Bar YLD continues to be held in high esteem among our colleagues and friends throughout the United States.

This fall we will welcome a fresh new crop of attorneys to the South Carolina Bar and the Young Lawyers Division. These new attorneys will enter the practice of law with energy, ambition and determination. Please help welcome these new members and encourage them to participate in what the YLD has to offer; we need new members to continue the cycle of excellence and fill the void of those that are aging out.

I challenge you to step forward and volunteer to be on a committee and get involved with the YLD. If you are currently serving and wish to continue, please stay involved. My hope is that the YLD continues to be the positive influence in the community and within the profession that it always has been. I am much looking forward to serving with each one of you.

Organization of the Division

The South Carolina Bar Young Lawyers Division (Division) was founded in 1974 to foster principles of duty and service to the public, promote professional responsibility, stimulate the interest of young lawyers in Bar activities, conduct programs of interest and value to young lawyers, and to assist in the coordination and improvement of local young lawyer organizations.

All lawyers practicing in South Carolina are licensed through the South Carolina Supreme Court and are mandatory members of the South Carolina Bar. All members of the South Carolina Bar in good standing under 36 years of age, or those admitted to the South Carolina Bar as their first bar less than five years are members of the Division.

The Executive Council is the governing body of the Division. The Executive Council is composed of a president, president-elect, secretary-treasurer, immediate past president, an out of state circuit representative, a circuit representative from each state's judicial circuit, the American Bar Association (ABA)/YLD representative (in alternating years), a law student representative for the USC Rice School of Law and from the Charleston School of Law, and others appointed by the Division President during his or her term as President.

The Division is an affiliate of the Young Lawyers Division of the ABA and sends representatives to the annual and midyear meetings and to spring and fall meetings of the ABA YLD. As a member of the ABA Young Lawyers Division, the South Carolina Bar YLD and its affiliated organizations share District 10 with the U.S. Virgin Islands. There are currently two local young lawyer affiliates, in addition to the SC Bar YLD and the U.S. Virgin Islands in District 10.

The South Carolina Bar Young Lawyers Division has enjoyed a momentum of prosperity since it was formed in 1974. The organization has blossomed from a small group brainstorming about projects to an award-winning statewide organization of approximately 4,000 lawyers tackling and conquering myriads of community service and Bar member projects.

The Young Lawyers Division has sponsored and continually strives to sponsor projects, which have a positive impact upon South Carolina's communities. It has been recognized by the ABA in national competition for its various service projects. Diversity and inclusion, wellness, domestic violence, and mentoring are only a few of the public service issues that have been addressed. These issues and others directly related to young lawyer practice remain on the agenda of the Division.

The Division allows young lawyers opportunities to improve the image of the legal profession and fulfill their public service goals. The Division has numerous committees with special projects to be completed. It also coordinates social events to give young lawyers around the state opportunities to network and learn about each other.

PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT COMMITTEE

The purpose of the Professional Development Committee is to assist young lawyers in becoming successful in the legal profession by facilitating networking opportunities with other young professionals and providing educational opportunities that focus on relevant issues relating to the profession. The committee members work with the committee chairs and circuit representatives to plan at least one professional development event in each circuit per Bar year. These events can vary from after work events with other young professional organizations, lunch and learn events for YLD members, and opportunities for soft skills enhancement, business etiquette tips, business development coaching, and more.

Over the last five years, the Professional Development Committee has hosted a monthly lunch series at a few of the federal courthouses in the state, through a partnership with Judge Duffy and Judge Childs. Some young professional organizations that the Professional Development Committee works with are the Young Bankers Division, the SC Association of Certified Public Accountants, and the National Association of Insurance and Financial Advisors of South Carolina. Previously, the committee has hosted “Brews and News” across the state, where young lawyers gathered at a local brewery to enjoy good beer and hear an informative talk by local practitioners on topics pertinent to the practice of law, such as networking and personal branding.

SPECIAL PROJECTS COMMITTEE

The Special Projects Committee is a group dedicated to serving both the legal community and the broader public through a range of initiatives. Formerly the Backpack Drive and Annual Bar Convention committees, we have combined forces to maximize our impact and efficiency in supporting those in need and fostering professional growth and camaraderie among young lawyers.

Our primary focus remains on our flagship events: the Backpack Drive and Bar Convention. The Backpack Drive, traditionally held in the summer, mobilizes our members to collect new backpacks and school supplies for donation to students and schools across the state. Simultaneously, the Bar Convention, typically scheduled in January, features a compelling CLE program tailored to the interests of young lawyers, offering a minimum of three CLE credit hours. The convention also hosts a social event, providing a platform for YLD members, their guests, and members of the judiciary the opportunity to network and engage with peers and mentors.

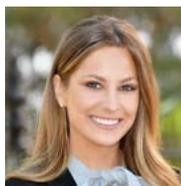

In addition to these cornerstone events, the Special Events Committee is primed to respond to emergency opportunities and needs within both the legal community and the public sphere. We stand ready to tackle new initiatives, whether they arise from within our ranks or from external circumstances, using our collective experience and enthusiasm to make a meaningful difference.

By consolidating our efforts under the banner of the Special Events Committee, we aim to streamline operations, enhance collaboration, and amplify our impact in service to the Bar and the broader community. Join us as we embark on this exciting journey of service, professional growth, and civility. Together, we can achieve remarkable things.

CINDERELLA PROJECT

Celebrating its 24th year, the Cinderella Project involves gathering donations of gently worn formal gowns, suits, ties, shoes, and accessories to benefit high school students across South Carolina. Students are invited to attend any boutique held in the spring to “shop” for a dress and other items, at no cost. Members of this committee coordinate with local businesses, community organizations, legal organizations, and law firms, for collection of the dresses, suits, and other donations. They also organize the boutiques and assist students as they shop, providing an opportunity to engage in conversations about law school and the legal profession in a fun, relaxed environment.
