Committee Sign Up

A Message from the President

Dear YLD Members,

Welcome to a new bar year!

It is my privilege and honor to serve alongside you as President of the Young Lawyers Division this bar year. This year promises to be a year of connection, growth, and service. Whether you are just beginning your legal journey or already deepening your practice (shout out to the “old” young lawyers! lol!), the YLD is here to support you, challenge you, and most importantly, empower you to thrive—both professionally and personally.

This year, our focus will be on community, education, and service. We are committed to providing opportunities that help you:

- Build meaningful relationships through networking events and mentorship opportunities;
- Develop your skills through CLEs, leadership opportunities, and career development resources to help you succeed;
- Make a difference by engaging in service projects and pro bono initiatives that give back to the communities we serve.

The YLD is a community where your voice matters, your contributions count, and your future is forged. As young lawyers, we are not the future of the profession, we are the present. We are the now. Therefore, we must OWN THE MOMENT. Now is your opportunity and moment to make an impact through your service, leadership, and innovation.

No matter where you are in your career, we invite you to get involved, bring your ideas to the table, and take advantage of everything this division has to offer. The YLD is here to help you feel connected, supported, and inspired.

So, jump in, join a committee, and get involved! Keep an eye out for upcoming events, leadership openings, and ways to connect. Throughout the year, there will many ways for you to participate, no matter your schedule or experience. Take advantage of every opportunity you can. And if you ever have questions, ideas, or just want to chat (because I’m a yapper), don’t hesitate to reach out.

Here’s to a successful and inspiring year ahead. I’m really looking forward to what we’ll accomplish together this year! Let’s make this year count. Let’s own it.

Warmest regards,

La'Jessica Stringfellow

YLD 2025-26 President

Organization of the Division

The South Carolina Bar Young Lawyers Division (Division) was founded in 1974 to foster principles of duty and service to the public, promote professional responsibility, stimulate the interest of young lawyers in Bar activities, conduct programs of interest and value to young lawyers, and to assist in the coordination and improvement of local young lawyer organizations.

All lawyers practicing in South Carolina are licensed through the South Carolina Supreme Court and are mandatory members of the South Carolina Bar. All members of the South Carolina Bar in good standing under 36 years of age, or those admitted to the South Carolina Bar as their first bar less than five years are members of the Division.

The Executive Council is the governing body of the Division. The Executive Council is composed of a president, president-elect, secretary-treasurer, immediate past president, an out of state circuit representative, a circuit representative from each state's judicial circuit, the American Bar Association (ABA)/YLD representative (in alternating years), a law student representative for the USC Rice School of Law and from the Charleston School of Law, and others appointed by the Division President during his or her term as President.

The Division is an affiliate of the Young Lawyers Division of the ABA and sends representatives to the annual and midyear meetings and to spring and fall meetings of the ABA YLD. As a member of the ABA Young Lawyers Division, the South Carolina Bar YLD and its affiliated organizations share District 10 with the U.S. Virgin Islands. There are currently two local young lawyer affiliates, in addition to the SC Bar YLD and the U.S. Virgin Islands in District 10.

The South Carolina Bar Young Lawyers Division has enjoyed a momentum of prosperity since it was formed in 1974. The organization has blossomed from a small group brainstorming about projects to an award-winning statewide organization of approximately 4,000 lawyers tackling and conquering myriads of community service and Bar member projects.

The Young Lawyers Division has sponsored and continually strives to sponsor projects, which have a positive impact upon South Carolina's communities. It has been recognized by the ABA in national competition for its various service projects. Diversity and inclusion, wellness, domestic violence, and mentoring are only a few of the public service issues that have been addressed. These issues and others directly related to young lawyer practice remain on the agenda of the Division.

The Division allows young lawyers opportunities to improve the image of the legal profession and fulfill their public service goals. The Division has numerous committees with special projects to be completed. It also coordinates social events to give young lawyers around the state opportunities to network and learn about each other.

PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT & MEMBERSHIP EVENTS COMMITTEE

The Professional Development and Membership Events Committee coordinates professional development opportunities, member networking events, family friendly events, and lunch and learns. The continuing goal of this committee is to assist young lawyers in becoming successful in the legal profession by facilitating networking opportunities with other young professionals and providing educational opportunities that focus on relevant issues relating to the profession. These events can vary from after work events with other young professional organizations, lunch and learn events for YLD members, and opportunities for soft skills enhancement, business etiquette tips, business development coaching, and more.

Over the last five years, the Professional Development Committee has hosted a monthly lunch series at a few of the federal courthouses in the state, through a partnership with Judge Duffy and Judge Childs. Some young professional organizations that the Professional Development Committee works with are the Young Bankers Division, the SC Association of Certified Public Accountants, and the National Association of Insurance and Financial Advisors of South Carolina. Previously, the committee has hosted “Brews and News” across the state, where young lawyers gathered at a local brewery to enjoy good beer and hear an informative talk by local practitioners on topics pertinent to the practice of law, such as networking and personal branding.

As a member of the Professional Development and Membership Events Committee, you will have the opportunity to:

- Organize practical professional development events for young lawyers.
- Organize networking opportunities for young lawyers with the Bar and other young professionals.

CINDERELLA PROJECT

Celebrating its 25th year, the Cinderella Project involves gathering donations of gently worn formal gowns, suits, ties, shoes, and accessories to benefit high school students across South Carolina. Students are invited to attend any boutique held in the spring to “shop” for a dress and other items, at no cost. Members of this committee coordinate with local businesses, community organizations, legal organizations, and law firms, for collection of the dresses, suits, and other donations. The boutiques provide an opportunity for young lawyers to introduce students to the legal profession and encourage students to consider becoming lawyers as a future career in a fun, relaxed environment.

As a member of the Cinderella Project Committee, you will have the opportunity to:

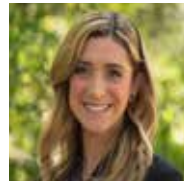

- Organize local boutiques to provide formal attire to high school students.
- Interact with high school students to promote the legal profession and encourage students to consider pursuing a legal career.
